A day shelter for street kids opens its doors here

Harmony House, a house for underprivileged children was inaugurated in Gurgaon on April 23. Harmony

House is an independent non-profit charitable organisation set up by Lucy Bruce, a British national in order to make a difference to the lives of underprivileged children in the region.

The house serves as a community centre for women and children and takes care of the basic needs of local, underprivileged children, including food, clothing, shelter and an education that encompasses language skills, applied sciences, music, arts and crafts, cooking and social studies.

The charity's official launch was followed by a well-rehearsed show put on by the children for the founders, senior management and board of trustees as well as family and friends.

Founder and active fund-raiser Lucy Bruce said, "It is humbling and heart-warming to know that so many people care about the lives of strangers who are in desperate need of help."
